Our range of square section dress rails are renowned for their strength and simplicity having no small parts that can be misplaced. All our rails can be taken apart quickly and easily and pack flat for transport or storage.

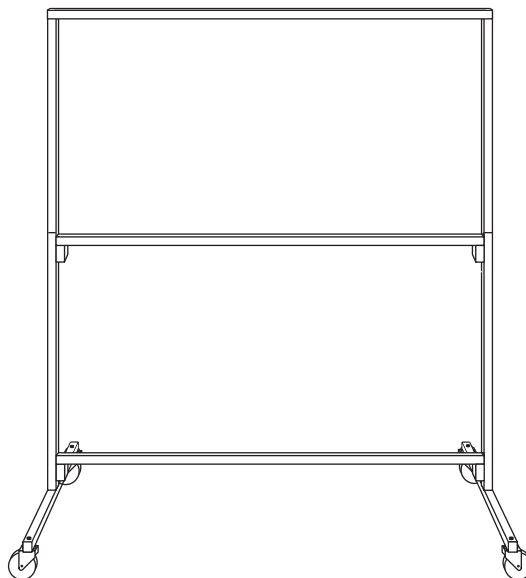

Rails may be used in conjunction with conventional clothes hangers as well as our extensive range of hanger brackets that fit directly onto the square section tubing enabling you to create your own professional and individual clothing displays which can be fronted up to the customer for maximum effect.

All our rails can be supplied with wheels (either standard or heavy duty) or simply as flat bottomed rails.
